WELCOME TO FOREVER REDWOOD'S CATALOG!

Forever Redwood was founded in 1995. We are a forest restoration company. We mill a limited amount of California Redwood each year to build our highly valued furniture line. Forestry is the heart of our business, and each piece of furniture helps pay for the restoration and future purchase of additional forestlands. We can't do it without you! To learn more, please visit: <http://www.foreverredwood.com/restoration-forestry/overview>

Forever Redwood mills lumber the old-fashioned way. For example, a 2x6 is milled a real 2" x 6" instead of what is called a 2x6 today (1 1/2" x 5 1/4"). The much thicker lumber is unique in the marketplace and is a consistent theme in all the catalog items.

Each "thick-timber" Forever Redwood piece is carefully hand built and finely finished with only the best materials available. We offer warranties of up to 30 years in any climate. The term Forever Redwood truly describes the line. The secret to outdoor longevity begins and ends with the wood. We use generous amounts of the most decay resistant wood available.

We encourage our customers to compare photos of our items side by side with any competing product. Thickness counts. Furniture that is thin and light simply won't last in the year round weather.

Our primary customer has always been the homeowner that appreciates spending a bit more for quality that will last decades. Our products are installed with organizations that appreciate longevity like the U.S. Forest Service, U.S. Military installations, State and City parks, Educational facilities, Golf clubs and Hotels.

We are favored also by landscape architects, developers and contractors because they can count on exceptional quality and quick personal service to complete projects. Each product is finely finished and carefully inspected. Old-fashioned hand building also allows us to adjust the size or design of any item to fit your needs.

Because we are a forestry company, you can choose from exceptional wood grades. Weather-related wood decay is warrantied from ten to thirty years depending on the wood grade selected. No other wood manufacturer has warranties anything like this. In the unlikely event your wood becomes soft for any reason before the warranty period expires, contact us and we will send replacement parts at no cost.

We are here to support you now and decades down the road also. If any issues arise, we will quickly work with you on a solution. Even if your furniture is out of warranty decades from now and you need a replacement part, odds are we will still be around and can help you keep your favorite old garden furniture in good shape for another 20 years....

We hope you enjoy this overview catalog introducing our product line. You can find more items and many more photos of the products introduced here along with complete pricing, options and additional information on our website.

Thank you for your interest. Please let us know how we can be of service.

From the forest, for the forest,

Raul F. Hernandez, CEO raul@foreverredwood.com

THE TRADITIONAL WOODEN GARDEN PERGOLA

GARDEN PERGOLAS

Looking for a traditional pergola that will hold up fine in any weather for 20 years plus? Want to be sure it is truly environmentally friendly? We have over 25 years experience making the Design to Install process simple. Let us know what you need in rough terms. One of our experienced designers will email you drawings back and forth until you say "perfect, build it!".

Garden Pergola Kits from Forever Redwood are as versatile as they are beautiful. We make Pergola Kits in a number of styles, with intricately individual designs and spatial flexibility that is second to none.

There truly is something for everyone when it comes to our wide selection of Garden Pergola Kits. From Arched Pergolas, Attached Pergola Kits, and Modern Louvered Garden Pergolas, we can offer a diverse range of outdoor kits to meet even the strictest demands.

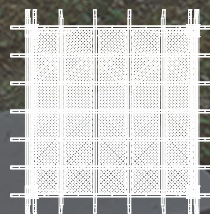

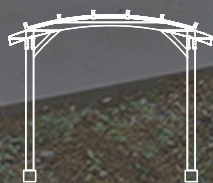

Standard sizes available up to 60 ft in length, but if you need a larger or a custom size, just let us know. For a complete list of sizes, options and pricing, please go to: <https://www.foreverredwood.com/pergolas-gazebos/garden-pergola-kits.html>

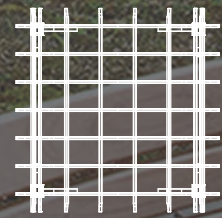

ARCHED PERGOLA KITS

When we receive any Pergola order, we will provide you with a detailed set of drawings based on the options and sizes chosen. The drawings will clearly show all the details and dimensions from 4 different angles. They are an excellent tool for you to double check everything to be sure it is exactly as you'd like before it is built.

Drawings are emailed within 5 business days and we'll revise your drawings as needed to make sure all details and sizing issues are perfected prior to beginning construction.

Buying a shade structure can be complicated. Our goal is to make your buying process as easy and pleasurable as possible.

5 STEPS TO A COMPLETED SHADE STRUCTURE PROJECT:

- 1. Choose your Style: Shade structures divide into 2 types: Waterproof roofs (pavilions or gazebos) or shade roofs (pergolas, arbors & trellises). In the next section, explore our most popular styles and see our custom designs featured throughout this guide.
- 2. Sizing, Options & Pricing: Size is determined by roof area. Choose the options you think you will want keeping in mind you will have ample time during the design phase to change any aspect of your order. Options include roof style, privacy panels, post height, fascia boards, trims, anchoring, finish options, bases for lights and ceiling fans and more. To get an exact quote, use the "Configure for Pricing" calculator that is at the top right of every product page on our website. You can always call or email for your estimate or if you have questions.
- 3. Drawings & Engineering Support: Once you place an order, you will have an assigned architect that will create working drawings for your review. Drawing revisions are included at no extra cost. If you need a permit or HOA approval, we will support you with the documentation you need.
- 4. Building & Shipping. We will fully erect your structure in our shop and it will be finely finished here so the assembly at your end will take minimal time. Depending on the size of your project, typical installation times are 2 to 7 days. You will receive photos daily while your order is being built so you can see it come to life. Structures up to 14' long are shipped in a crate via LTL carrier directly to you. Larger structures we deliver in our own large trucks.
- 5. Installation. You can install yourself or opt for our complete nationwide assembly service, in which we personally deliver and install it for you. You can see the assembly instructions of any of our products in every individual product page. Enjoy your new beautiful shade structure, and our lifetime support that comes with it!

OLD-GROWTH REDWOOD

Forever Redwood offers 6 types of Redwood Wood Grades. The left images show the different types of wood grades with the most popular sealant option (the recommended Transparent Premium Sealant).

Forever Redwood offers warranties of up to thirty years. The secret to longevity begins and ends with the wood. California Redwood is the most moisture and insect resistant wood species that grows naturally in N. America. All Forever Redwood furniture boards are cut extra-thick for added longevity. Just compare the girth of our products with our competitors. Thin and light wood furniture just can't survive decades out in the weather.

All boards are air and/or kiln-dried to a 12% moisture content for the best long-term finish and stability. Each Forever Redwood item is hand built. Each board is hand selected for optimal results. For example, tabletops, armrests, bench seats and other furniture sections that come into regular human contact are made with vertical grain boards. Vertical grain is the most expensive lumber on the market because it is stronger, more dimensionally stable, and insures no splintering in future years/decades.

Forever Redwood is rustic yet elegant furniture. To keep the rustic flavor, interesting grain patterns and some small sound knots are included in each piece to add contrast and highlights. We combine the rustic flavor with fine sanding (220 grit) for a smooth-to-the-touch finish.

Although not recommended, if you prefer 100% knot-free furniture in any wood grade, just let us know. Knot-free is not recommended because the knots normally included are small and sound and knot-free lumber has less interesting grain patterns (mostly straight lines). There is a surcharge for knot-free orders that varies according to the item.

Old-Growth Redwood is available as a standard option for all furniture, swings, planters and custom pieces, but for large shade structure it is on a request and availability basis only. If you want to build your large structure with ancient reclaimed Old-Growth, please contact us.

FINISH

The most popular finish is our Transparent Premium Sealant. This sealant leaves your furniture looking natural and helps keep the beautiful wood surface colors from fading for several years. We use Sikkens brand finishes because they are the best finishes on the market. For more information about our finishes and how to keep your furniture looking great year after year, please go to: <https://www.foreverredwood.com/redwood-furniture/care-finish/>

Unfinished (fine sanding only): If you are applying your own stain or want the surface color to fade to a "weathered look" in a few months. We do not recommend you leave your furniture unfinished outdoors for any extended period regardless of wood quality. Outdoor weather changes constantly and it is best to at least seal the wood to protect it from consistently absorbing and losing moisture.

Transparent Premium Sealant - Recommended for Outdoors.

We also offer the Transparent Premium Sealant with the following stains. There is a small charge for adding these stains because it increases the total amount of coats to 4 with the sealant as the final coats:

PRIMERS

Off-White Oil-Based Primer:

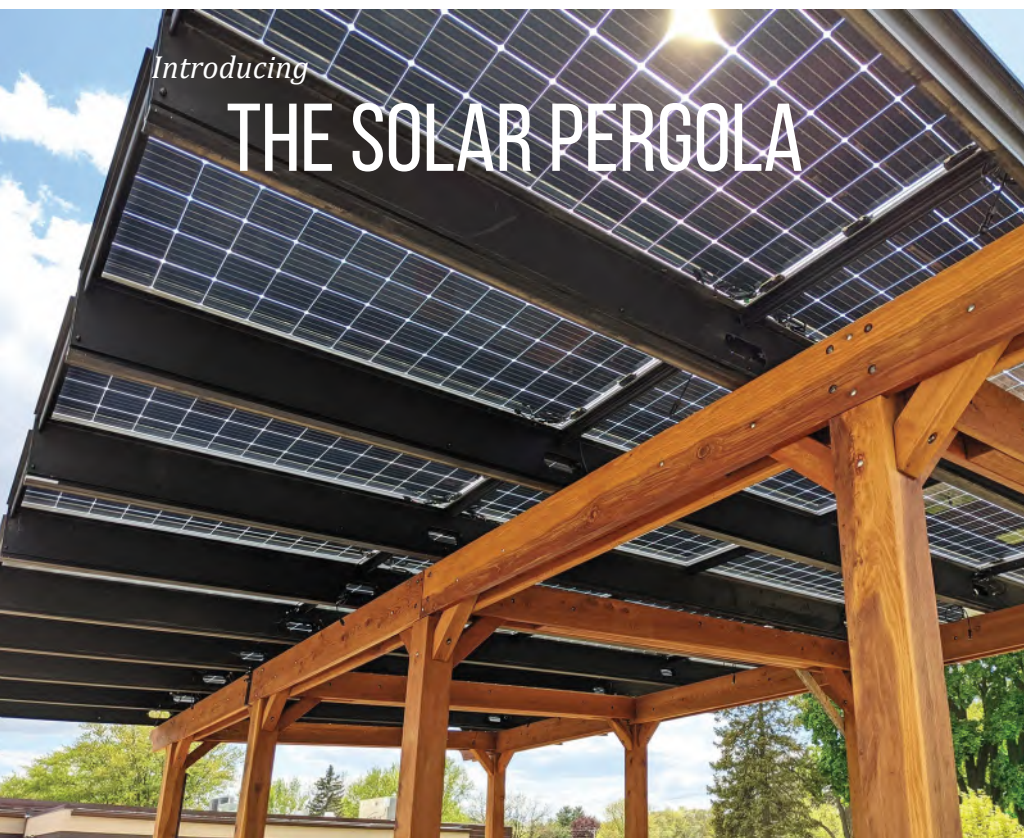

If you are painting a light color. We apply two coats so that it is ready for one final coat.

Gray Oil-Based Primer:

If you are painting a darker color. We apply two coats so that it is ready for the final coat.

THE SOLAR PERGOLA

Each Solar Pergola is customized to your needs. We use thick quality timbers so you can cover with panels and know it is fine structurally long-term.

We recommend you place an order for roughly the size you think will work and not worry too much about dialing it in 100% since you'll have an assigned designer that will fine tune it with you. We will draw in the panels based on the specs you give us and lay them out with the right roof pitch and overall height you want and will only build once you sign off on the final drawings.

THE VICTORIAN TRELLEIS

AN OUTDOOR OASIS 18 YEARS IN THE MAKING. When Trish and JR West of King George, VA reached out to Forever Redwood, it was to realize a dream 18 years in the making. They'd made countless attempts over the years to create the perfect poolside oasis, experimenting with umbrellas, dining room sets, and outdoor furniture. But nothing was ever quite right.

During a visit to a nearby winery to research wedding venues for their daughter, the Wests spotted the ideal solution — a graceful wooden outdoor structure with trellised walls and an arched roof. JR snapped pictures and created drawings. Now, all he needed was a team with the woodworking expertise and imagination to bring his vision to life.

JR searched the web for "custom woodworking" and "custom pergolas" and eventually found Forever Redwood.

Over the course of six months, he worked with the engineering team to adapt his photos and drawings to a 22' L x 14' W x 14' H design. Trish and JR added their own touches including three arches on the pool-facing side and an opening in the roof to accommodate a stone fireplace with a custom Redwood mantel. They chose gorgeous, long-lasting mature Redwood as a building material.

"The entire process was smooth and efficient," says JR. "We could not be happier."

Trish and JR's outdoor oasis is finally complete. The finished structure (which we dubbed The Victorian Trellis) sits beneath towering trees on the 22-acre property. "It's like an outdoor secret room where you can look up and see the stars," JR says. On cool evenings when the fireplace is ablaze, "our guests don't want to leave!"

These days, their outdoor oasis is more important than ever. Trish is a nurse and JR is a school principal, so the Covid-19 pandemic has dramatically altered their daily lives. According to JR, "it's what we need to recharge. We feel blessed to have it."

PAVILIONS

Add style, function, and sustainability to an outdoor space with our beautiful wood pavilion kits. Each kit is handcrafted from the finest California Redwood. Whichever model you choose, your outdoor wood pavilion kit will make the perfect addition for large parties, outdoor meeting space, or commercial event space. They are durable in inclement weather and give you an open-air feeling, while providing cover from the elements, all with a beautiful redwood style and durable construction.

POST ANCHORING

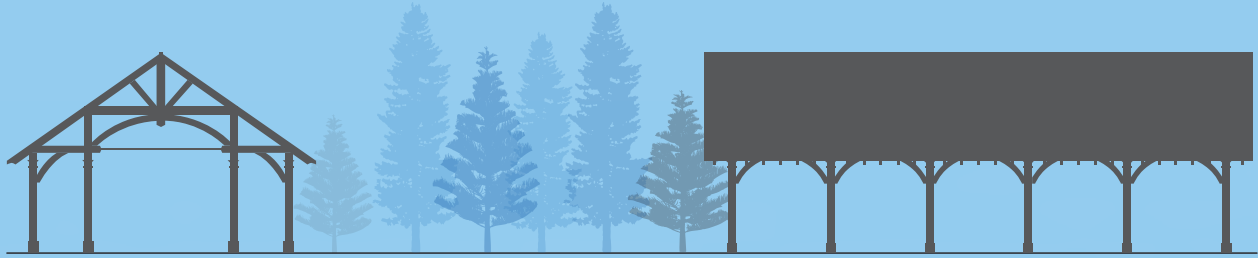

All pergola and pavilion posts should be attached to the ground.

We offer two different options: a Standard Anchor Kit and a High Wind Anchor Kit (rated to 150 mph) to secure your structure. All anchor kits come with wood trim that will hide the metal of the anchor. Which anchor kit is best suited to your situation depends on the shade structure type, and how much wind you get in your area.

THE CARDINAL'S NEST PAVILION

At Forever Redwood, we have a time-honored saying, "If you dream it, we can build it." In 2017, as Monica Hilton planned her wedding, she called upon us to fulfill that promise in a very literal sense. "I had a dream one night of what I wanted," said Monica. "I drew it out on a piece of paper."

What Monica saw in her dream was a magnificent, chapel-esque outdoor pavilion, 22 feet at its peak, with lofty arches and elegant columns. In this sacred space, at the foot of the Smoky Mountains, couples would exchange vows and say "I do", witnessed by their loved ones.

The first couple to tie the knot? Monica and her fiancé (now husband) Stan. Their story is the stuff of dreams as well. When Stan reached out to Monica eight years ago, they'd known each other for 50 years but had fallen out of touch. During that time, they'd both married and divorced. "I swore I'd never marry again," Monica said.

But love found a way and soon they were head over heels and planning a life together. Monica moved from Georgia to Tennessee, leaving behind her job as a business administrator in geospatial architecture.

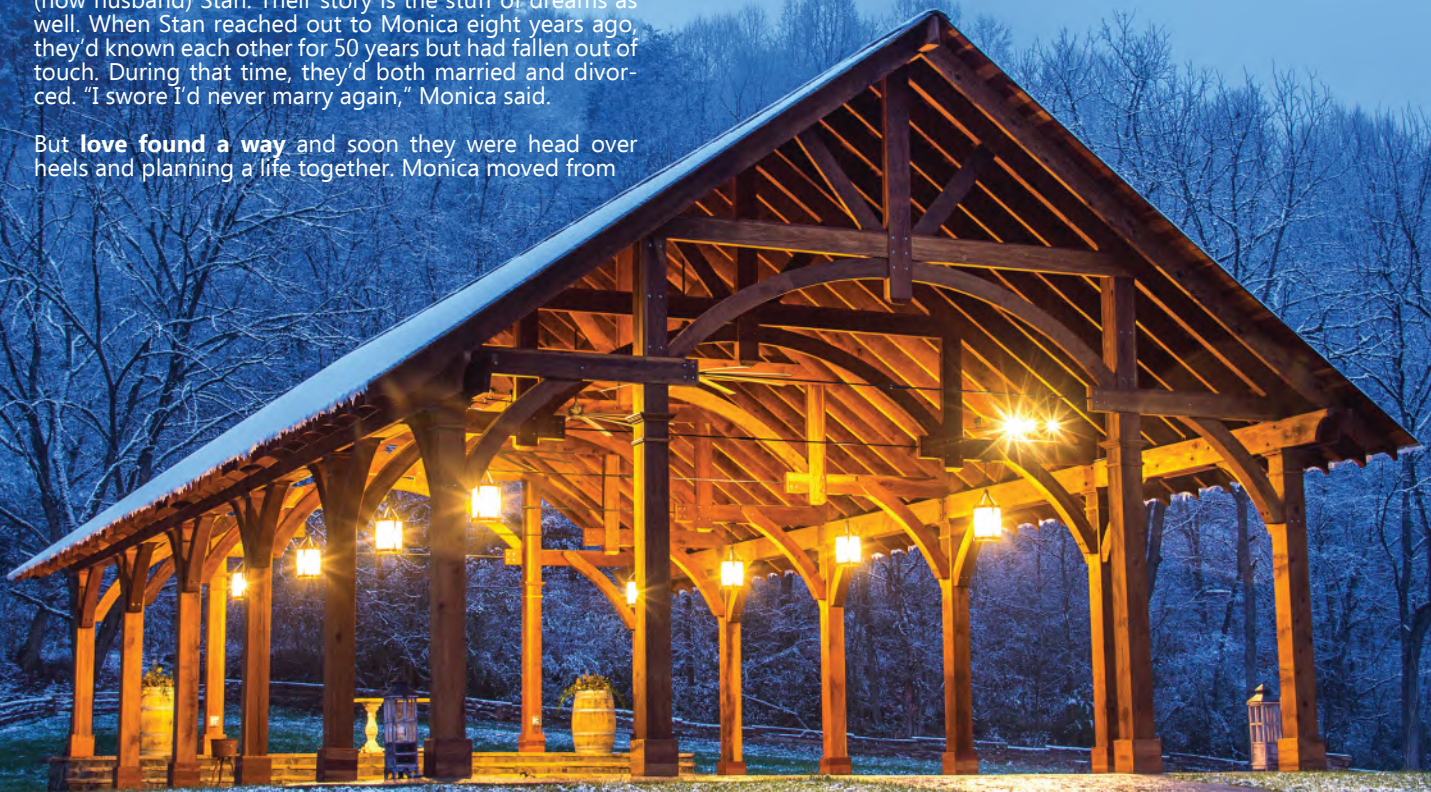

Stan asked what she saw as her next career move. "I told him I'd always wanted to have a wedding venue." She dreamed of the pavilion soon after.

Stan was 100% supportive of Monica's vision. But a few obstacles had to be overcome before the dream could become reality — such as building a 60'L x 34'W x 22'H pavilion while also planning a wedding! "Apparently, I'm really good with stress," Monica laughed. "Plus Stan promised it would happen." Partnering with the right company to build the pavilion was critical. Monica first frustrated when she was told aspects of her vision were impossible because of the wedding timeline.

Unwilling to compromise her dream, Monica told Stan, "they're not going to get it. I'm going to find someone who does." When she found Forever Redwood online, the hand-crafted construction and use of Redwood grabbed her attention.

"I wanted something special, not something made out of Douglas Fir that looked like a baseball bat." Monica's grandfather was a carpenter. Because of his influence, she loved the strength, beauty and color of Redwood. "When I found Forever Redwood, I knew this was meant to be."

HISTORY

Forever Redwood grew out of a non-profit organization, Old-Growth Again Restoration Forestry (OGA). OGA came into being between three friends who loved the Redwood forest and wanted to create a model of how to take care of it. After a couple years they realized they had to create a model that was independent of donations or government funding. Raul Hernandez, Frank Marrero and A. Terry Patten began in 1995 with a 42- acre forest and learned restoration forestry the hard way - over years of hands-on work.

From Hobby Farm to Tiny Firewood Business

The forestry work required extensive thinning of overcrowded lower quality trees. The results were hard fought but spectacular. To get more done, they decided to sell some of the cut material as firewood locally. By 1999 the first 42 acres had been thinned and planted and they were fortunate enough to purchase an adjacent 41 acres and an extra truck. They had three employees working fulltime helping with the thinning, planting and firewood business.

From Local Business to Shipping Around the World

In 1999 another good friend, Warren Linney, spent $11,000 on a portable Lucas Mill. They had decided to mill some old Redwood logs that had been left on the forest floor from the industrial logging done in the 1950's. There were quite a few of these logs lying about and some were worth pulling out. The wood was incredible. They first decided to make picnic tables and ran ads in the local papers. These sold in the San Francisco Bay area for a few years and allowed them to purchase another 41 acre parcel nearby to continue the restoration work.

In 2002, friend Marilyn Hughes entered the picture. Marilyn knew HTML and built an eight page website. Once the site launched, Forever Redwood was suddenly in the nationwide furniture business. Because they insisted on making things by hand to the highest quality standards, many requests poured in asking for custom pieces and new designs. These customer requests defined the bulk of our product offerings over the years and today the business has expanded to include 580 acres, a nursery of young Redwood trees and the growing patio furniture line. Some of our best workers hailed from Mexico, and in 2004 we opened a second workshop in Ensenada, Mexico (an hour south of San Diego, CA). Our base of operations is still Sonoma County, California, where we continue to manage our forestland, build some of our furniture and mill and dry the carefully harvested lumber. We have shipped Forever Redwood to all five continents and want to thank all our wonderful customers for making it happen.

WE'RE MORE COMMITTED THAN EVER TO HANDCRAFTED QUALITY—AND TO YOU.

Forever Redwood started making furniture in 2000. We built a small barn to house the equipment for a woodworking shop. We had no electricity out in the woods, so we wired the shop with Honda Generators.

Our first orders were for Picnic Tables for local customers from a newspaper ad we ran in the Santa Rosa Press Democrat. In late 2002, we set up a tiny website for local customers and suddenly started getting calls from all over the country. We were not prepared to ship out of state and grow quickly. Annapolis is a lovely town, but there was minimal housing and shipping nationwide from our remote location was complicated.

First, we expanded the barn. Then, we looked for larger buildings in nearby towns. But, it was during the real estate bubble years and leases were exorbitant. In 2005 we found the perfect shop. Since a large part of our business was in S. California, we located near the border in Mexico in Ensenada, Baja California.

Today, we are in our second shop in Ensenada, on the south end of town. It is ar 30,000 square ft shop with 130 employees. Some of our best carpenters go back to the barn days. Guys like shop foreman Antonio Toledo and carpenter Cesar Alaniz. Our carpenters and carpenter assistants stay with us because we offer excellent working conditions with above average pay. In return, we have experienced, happy and well trained men and woman that produce what we think is the highest quality outdoor wood furniture and shade structures anywhere. We hope you agree. We still manage our forest lands and mill and dry all our lumber in Northern California and if we can just sell a few more of our pieces, we hope to soon buy another parcel of forestland in Annapolis!

FOREVER REDWOOD
From the Forest, For the Forest since 1995

FOREVER REDWOOD MISSION STATEMENT

Forever Redwood's Mission is to grow and protect Redwood Forests by utilizing the proceeds from product sales to fund restoration efforts. The on-going disappearance of mature forest habitat is accelerating. This is the root cause of the global decline of wildlife, biological diversity and climatic stability.

Restoration forestry reverses these declines by recreating mature old-growth habitats. Vast forests full of large trees will help cool the earth again by retaining enormous amounts of carbon in perpetuity. Forests can be restored back to Old-Growth Again. We are doing it.

FR was founded to restore and manage forestland in a way that truly allows the forest to flourish over time while yielding a conservative amount of high quality timber to fund the restoration.

The key to a vital and vibrant Forest Restoration effort is to harvest limited amounts of lumber and produce quality crafted premium products from the lumber. These products fund the forest's restoration. Having the forest contribute economically to the human society around it lessens the daily pressure to replace the natural forest with tree farms, encroaching suburbs or ranches.

The Forever Redwood furniture and shade structure line funds FR restoration work completely: "From the Forest, For the Forest".

By significantly limiting the amount of wood harvested in all time periods into the future and adhering to many other restoration standards, any forest in the world can yield wood for human use while adding volume decade by decade as it recreates mature and old-growth trees again. Year after year, customers look to Forever Redwood for a premium product and a human-centered experience. This includes 10 to 30 year warranties, woodworking led by master carpenters, extra-thick California Redwood, and onsite, complete nationwide assembly. Most companies have squeezed out such superior standards in favor of maximizing profit. We refuse to go down that path. It's not who we are.

We deeply appreciate your support, friendship, and investment in our handcrafted outdoor furniture and shade structures.

QUALITY CONTROL EXPERTS!

WHAT MAKES FOREVER REDWOOD LUMBER SO SPECIAL?

At Forever Redwood we value old-fashioned, high-quality woodworking.

Ever heard of quarter-sawn, vertical grade lumber? If you haven't, it's no surprise since it's mostly a lost art. This fine woodworking technique keeps outdoor furniture beautiful, weather-resistant and ensures that you never get a splinter. All of our tables and bench tops are made from quarter-sawn, vertical grade lumber.

Quartersawn vertical grain lumber is only one of the many details that make your Forever Redwood purchase special. For marine or tough weather areas, we offer Stainless Steel hardware to avoid staining or decay issues. Every piece is made from seasoned, oversized timbers of free of heart center high quality all natural wood. All our work is 100% handcrafted. No machine punched out items. The list of special details that goes into each piece is long and is best gleaned by comparing the photos of our finished pieces with those of our competitors.

So when you purchase a piece of furniture or one of our shade structures, you're investing in a legacy piece to be enjoyed by you and your family for decades to come.

We decided to name the pavilion for the home turf county where the biggest trees in the world hang out, Humboldt County.

So, let us know what size and what bells and whistles you want with yours and consider it done!

EL PASO WEDDING PAVILION

BACKYARD PAVILION KITS

SELECTING YOUR PERGOLA OR PAVILION STYLE

Search online for a pergola or pavilion kit and you'll get thousands of results. There are countless products on the market of varying quality. You'll also find plans to build your own structure from scratch (which is a lot of fun—we know!). You can also go into most Box stores and see inexpensive mass-manufactured pergolas in standard, smallish sizes (under 200 square-feet). But, if you're looking for a premium product, a special shape, or a large structure, or you need to attach your structure to a building—your choices drop to a handful of manufacturers. By taking the time to consider your options, you can be sure your pergola will be perfectly designed to provide a balance of shading, visibility, privacy, and proportions for years of enjoyable use. Our most popular shade structure styles are shown on these pages.

THE BREEZY PAVILION

THE LORETO PAVILION

Too sunny in the yard? The Loreto Pavilion is a modern take on the traditional post and beam construction that is now back in vogue. We don't follow fashion too closely, but now the Loreto has become a very popular guy. If you are looking for a truly distinctive thick timber shelter to shade part of the yard for the perfect hangout spot, your Loreto can be built up to 40' L!

THE HEXAGONAL RETREAT PAVILION

Porch Pavilions

The Illuminati Porch Pavilion takes the best of a pergola and a pavilion to make a hybrid structure that allows the right amount of sunlight in while keeping your guests cool and out of the year round weather.

Porch Pavilions are built any size you need to attach to your home, but they can also be customized to be free standing structures. We can even install them if you don't have the time. We are a one stop shop. If you can dream it, we will build it for you.

A BACKYARD PAVILION OFFERS SHADE—AND HEALING

When On With Life, a not-for-profit brain injury rehab provider, began treating a young woman who'd suffered a traumatic brain injury, the rehabilitation team mobilized around the high school senior's most important recovery goal—attending prom.

"We don't set the goals. The patient does," said Abby Bogaards, MHA, a marketing specialist with On With Life. This unique, person-centered approach means On With Life shapes its rehab programs to fit the people they serve, not vice versa.

The young woman's treatment plan involved dressing for prom, dancing, and selecting music. For others, it might be gardening or golf, activities which On With Life offers on its recently completed "therapeutic grounds"—a 1.5-acre expanse of ADA-accessible outdoor space funded entirely by philanthropy.

"The grounds allow us to put person-served interests and goals, from the real world, at the center of our therapy," said Abby. "They can dig in the dirt, fix a tractor, and take shade in the Butterfly Garden."

The Butterfly Garden, which is actually shaped like a giant butterfly, provides a charming place for repose and reflection. But it's also an example of On With Life's cutting-edge approach to brain injury rehab. A master gardener selected plants with soft textures and smells to stimulate a recovering person's senses in specific ways, including those people in disorders of consciousness (an updated term for coma). Therapists or families take them outside in their wheelchairs and help them feel the different textures and smell the different scents. Often a butterfly will alight on a visitor since the plants were also chosen for their attractiveness to butterflies.

At the heart of the Butterfly Garden, a spacious (30'x10') Forever Redwood Backyard Pavilion provides shade and a venue for small events. On With Life's Environmental Designer/Planner, Cindy Friedrichsen, oversaw the selection and installation of the pavilion. She was drawn to work with Forever Redwood because of her childhood love of the redwood forests. Naturally, she chose redwood as the material, both for its beauty and durability. She also selected a vertical post decorative trim to complement the wood. The addition of asphalt roofing is on her spring to-do list.

Cindy appreciated her interactions with Forever Redwood during both the research and the manufacturing phases of the project. "Raul was very interested in our design and what we were trying to accomplish," she said, referring to Raul Hernandez, Forever Redwood's Founder and CEO. "He sent us pictures of the pavilion as it was built and then disassembled for shipping. He was a pleasure to talk to."

Once the pavilion kit arrived, a group of volunteers was able to erect it in a day. The posts were anchored to withstand the Midwest temperatures and winds, ensuring that the people served by On With Life will continue to find shade, pleasure, and healing beneath the pavilion for years to come.

RECTANGULAR PICNIC TABLES

When you purchase one of our Forever Wood Picnic Tables, you are getting a piece of outdoor furniture that will last generations. These fantastic wood picnic tables can be purchased with either benches attached to the table, or with separate benches. This is the perfect table for large gatherings, campgrounds or restaurants with outdoor eating spaces.

These tables can take whatever you throw at them, and are constructed with 30% more wood than the leading competitors. We use the highest quality restoration forestry timber and build each piece by hand in our shop. There are no cheap materials or flimsy hinges here.

- Forever Picnic Tables are available in lengths from 4 to 14 feet to seat up to 18 adults comfortably.
- Each table is handmade per your instructions. Choose your length, tabletop width, corner styles, umbrella hole and other options to make the table just the way you'd like.
- Materials to last a lifetime - extra thick Redwood outlasts cedar or teak. We use only stainless hardware and the best weather resistant sealant.
- Fast assembly. Sets ship in less than 15 parts. Tabletop and benchtops always ship assembled. Just add the legs and supports and enjoy your wood table.

Ordering is easy. Simply select your table in the drop menu and customize how you want it. We ship anywhere in the Continental United States.

CRAFTSMANSHIP AND DURABILITY

When you buy Forever Redwood, you are making an investment that will add value and enjoyment to your home for years to come.

From our inception in the 1990's, we have designed and built our products to stand out from the competition. Compare the photos and weights of our products. Compare the fine details. For example, the heart of our company is our forestry work. We like to say our wood is guilt-free because you can rest assured the wood was harvested in a way that helps the forest restore itself.

Your Forever Redwood piece is built the way the carpenters of old always did:

- We use thick high quality timbers to ensure your piece will last decades year round in the harshest outdoor environments.
- Every piece is backed with decay warranties of up to 30 years. California Redwood is the most decay resistant wood that grows naturally in North America. Redwood outlasts the Cedar and Teak alternatives on the market today.
- Some wood grades we offer are no longer available anywhere because of over logging. It takes a long time to grow quality wood. The way we manage our forestlands ensures the trees have plenty of time to quality wood before we carefully harvest some.
- Your order is hand cut, drilled, notched, routed, doweled and fine sanded. Handcrafting makes each piece slightly unique and allows us to custom size and design to meet your needs. Notching interlocks adjoining timbers to increase strength and ensure that the wood never moves, sags or shrinks.

- We ease edge and sand to 220 grit for a smooth-to-the-touch feel. We choose to retain a bit of the rustic flavor in our furniture with a few small sound knots with the guiding motif being to achieve a rustic and elegant result.
- Your order is fully assembled in the shop and inspected at 5 steps in the production process. Assembly is minimal because we ship in as few pieces as possible. For example, all table and bench tops ship fully assembled.
- We use the best sealant on the market to show off the natural beauty of our California Redwood grades and to keep the surface finish looking great for years (the Sikkens brand).

We have many long-term customers that keep adding to their Forever Redwood collections over the years.

We hope you'll join them.

When we were getting bids on the roof several of the people said it was the prettiest one they ever seen and really liked the mosaic wood. Turned out great. At this point it has 3 coats of sealer on it. The sealer really bring out the beauty of the wood. Really pleased.

Thanks

Kevin L - Newcastle, OK.

I purchased a bench from you a couple of years ago as a memorial for my brother. I recently heard that the park where the bench was placed has received enough comments on the bench that they plan to purchase another.

Thought you should know that your good work is appreciated. Thanks.

Jim E. - Eugene, OR.

Just wanted to drop a note and tell everyone THANK YOU. Your whole team was excellent to work with. We placed a time lapse video camera on the project and will be able to send it out in a couple weeks. Our construction crew started assembling the pavilion on Monday and just finished up today (4 days total). They were very complementary of your work and the directions to reassemble; they really liked this project.

Andy Kouba - Mississippi State University

Just wanted to let you know my contractor and I FINALLY got my pavilion installed! It is more beautiful than we expected. Even he was impressed, and he works around buildings everyday.

He complimented the design and structure integrity of the pavilion. I can't thank your team enough for our Loreto. (My neighbors all hate me for making their yards look less impressive!)

I am attaching a pic, even though it is not quite done, yet. (Shingles and electricity come this week)

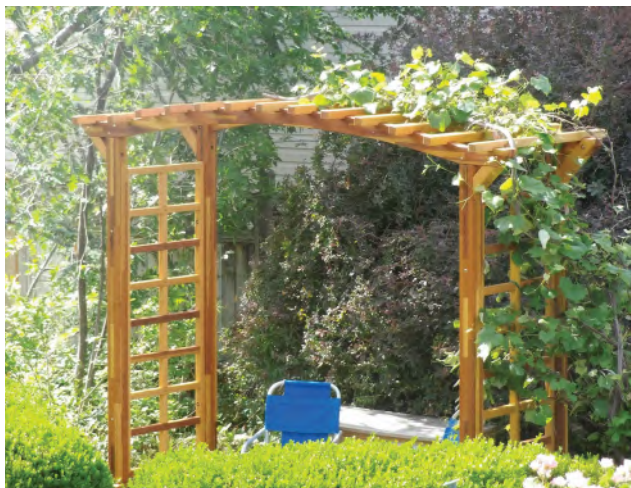

Patrick I. - Joplin, MO.

The arbor could not be lovelier. Many thanks to you and your amazing team for creating this work of art.

We are using it literally as a grape arbor. Our old grape arbor was crushed by a falling tree. The grapevine survived and is now draped over the new arbor (as shown in the picture).

Bruce J. E. - Salt Lake City, UT.

We all love the new picnic table, one that all creatures can enjoy! Looking forward to many picnics to come!

Building gurneys as a city prepares for Covid-19

When the city of Ensenada, Baja California requested a proposal from Forever Redwood to construct wooden gurneys for the Covid-19 crisis, Raul Hernandez, Founder and CEO, immediately responded. Forever Redwood manages its forestlands and mill in Northern California, but the woodworking shop has been operating in Ensenada for over 15 years.

"As a true woodworking shop, we are positioned to carry out this project with quality and speed," Raul said. And time was of the essence. The gurneys are needed for a soon-to-be-completed patient overflow facility. Though wood is not the typical material for these wheeled hospital stretchers, it's a cost-effective way for Ensenada to quickly provide extra capacity for its healthcare system.

When the city accepted the proposal, the shop floor was reorganized for construction of the stretchers. Raul assembled the minimum number of carpenters needed to meet the city's timeline, while staying safe. "Everyday we are testing our employees for fever, adhering to social distancing guidelines, handwashing throughout the day. And, of course, wearing facemasks."

No spec sheet existed, so production foreman, Manuel Valenzuela, was dispatched to an overflow facility being finalized in nearby Tijuana, a gymnasium with 300 wooden gurneys.

He took photographs and measurements. Using these, the Engineering Department created a spec sheet with slight modifications. "We felt these adjustments would improve the quality of the finished gurneys," said Raul.

The result is a simple, solid design: 3ft x 6.5ft, with a backrest adjustable to 45 degrees, 15 degrees, or supine. Cushions will be added after the beds leave the woodworking shop.

The gurneys are solid, 100% Douglas-Fir, and weigh 180 lbs. Each is sanded and routed, so it's splinter-free, and finished with Penofin. Caster wheels that lock and swivel make the gurneys mobile and safe.

All 80 gurneys were delivered to the city by Monday May 18th.

Like most employers and business owners, Raul looks forward to the day when the woodworking shop is operating at full steam, creating beautiful Redwood shade structures and outdoor furniture; and, more importantly, when the dangers and disruptions of Covid-19 are behind us. But for now, the Forever Redwood team is laser-focused on delivering the city of Ensenada the gurneys needed to care for its citizens.

THE TRADITIONAL WOODEN GARDEN PERGOLA

Building on the margin of the 155 acre Acacia Reservation, we didn't want a backyard lawn of (over) fertilized monoculture grass, or an impermeable concrete patio, abutting such a great restoration project at the headwaters of Euclid Creek. Over our brick patio the Forever Redwood pergola is absolutely perfect. We were very lucky to have the opportunity to build our home on the margin of this former golf course, purchased in 2008 by The Conservation Fund for nearly $15 Million and then "sold" to Cleveland Metro Parks for $1 with a deed requiring essentially complete restoration of the land to its natural state. So a sustainably harvested Redwood pergola not only fits aesthetically, but in spirit as well.

Thank you to everyone who participated, voted, and shared their stories.

SEVEN FOREVER REDWOOD PIECES AND ONE DELIGHTED GRANDMOTHER

Ann Harrington's backyard is a labor of love, years in the making. She calls it a "magical sanctuary" and "place of respite," ever ready for visits from her five children, their spouses and her eleven grandchildren (plus two more on the way). Among the vibrant flowers and shade trees are seven Forever Redwood pieces, purchased by Ann and her husband, David, over the course of a decade.

"We are big fans!" says Ann, who lives in Salt Lake City, UT. She acquired the first piece, an Ensenada Rocking Chair, after a web search for Redwood furniture led her to Forever Redwood. The Harringtons initially had concerns about managing quality control with an out-of-state company. But after reading more about Forever Redwood and reviewing all of the different customization options, they warmed to the idea.

A phone call with Founder Raul Hernandez sealed the deal. "You felt like you were in secure hands," Ann says. In addition to answering all of her questions, Raul recounted how he'd "field-tested" three different prototypes of the rocking chair with his wife and new baby before finalizing the design. "I know you will be delighted," he told Ann. As Ann's family has grown, so too has her Forever Redwood collection. After ordering, and loving, that first rocking chair, Ann and David purchased two more. Over the years, they've added a Luna Wood Bench with a cushion and a Brian's Side Table.

The Ensenada-style Bench Swing Set is much-loved by Ann's grandchildren and her piano students; as is the fairy garden (left).

For all of the pieces, Ann chose long-lasting, weather-resistant Old-Growth Redwood. In nature, this heartwood can remain lying on the forest floor, perfectly intact, for up to 130 years. Such singular durability equates to investing in a legacy piece, a benefit of which Ann is well aware.

"My children often say, 'We love this furniture! If you ever get tired of it, can you please let us have it?'" She laughs. "It's good to know Forever Redwood guarantees the Old Growth for 30 years."

More recently, Ann and David added a Bench Swing Set with a swing roof. When ordering the swing, she requested that it be "heavy-duty" so all of her grandchildren could pile on and enjoy the swing together.

"Raul was so gracious. He said no problem," Ann says. "Today, when my grandchildren swing together, I never worry about them harming the swing". At one time, Ann purchased Redwood furniture from another company, who she says "will remain nameless." It has not stood the test of time. "Those pieces are already starting to fall apart. But our Forever Redwood pieces are impeccable. They look as good as the day my husband and son put them together."

"We are sticking with Forever Redwood because we like the quality and we love the product," Ann says. "Raul sincerely stands behind his products and that's rare in today's society."

OUR REFINISHING SERVICE—MAKE YOUR PATIO FURNITURE LOOK GOOD AS NEW (PLUS, DIY TIPS)

Your Forever Redwood furniture is built to last for decades in year-round weather with minimal maintenance.

In fact, you can choose not to give your Redwood pieces any attention whatsoever because Redwood is naturally resistant to weather, insects, and decay.

That said, we do recommend some maintenance.

To extend the life of your Forever Redwood product and keep it looking beautiful, spend a few minutes each spring hosing it down. Do not power wash it—just hose and wipe clean with a rag.

Once it dries, take a look at the surface of the wood and the finish. If it looks like it is fading or drying out, give it a fresh coat of sealant. This will darken the finish and keep the wood supple and long-lasting. Learn more on DIY Care and Finish and where to find sealant.

Down the road many years, you may want to refinish your piece and return it to the rich tones of a fresh wood finish. You can easily do so by sanding and resealing.

Watch this video:
<https://www.foreverredwood.com/video-care-and-finish-refinishing-your-furniture>

Easy, right? A chair takes only an hour or two. Larger structures may require a long afternoon but make a fun weekend project.

If you prefer not to do the job yourself, Forever Redwood can help.

MOLD ISSUES:

If you are in a very moist area or near water, you may have some molding issues come up every once in a while.

It has a simple solution, water with a bit of bleach heavily diluted will kill it. Just spray on and wipe off. Can also use lime juice.

MORE ABOUT DOUGLAS-FIR...

Is a strong economical alternative (from trees averaging 50 to 100 years of age). Although the Forever Redwood forestlands are mostly Redwood, about 30% of the conifer trees are Douglas-fir. Douglas-fir is our least expensive wood grade and an excellent way to get any item in our catalog at a fraction of the cost of having it made in Redwood. For example, an identical item made from Old-Growth Redwood will cost over 60% more than if made using Douglas-fir.

The Douglas-fir grades vary from #1 structural select up to clear vertical grain. Most boards have open grain (less than eight growth rings per inch). It is a combination of a light tan color with occasional streaks of slightly darker shades.

Left out in the harsh year-round sun, rain and snow without maintenance, Douglas-fir is guaranteed not to decay in any climate for 10 years. Douglas-fir has significant decay resistance and is structurally stronger and heavier than Redwood. It is lower priced because it will not last as long as Redwood outdoors. But, it holds up surprising well in moist, as well as dry or severe, climates in year-round outdoor weather. To add protection for wetter or harsher climates, we recommend our premium sealant options (see Finish Options & Furniture Care to see how to keep your furniture looking new and lasting even longer).

We've been building furniture for employees and custom orders out of Douglas-fir with great results for years. Since 2008, we have let the secret out: Douglas-fir is an excellent choice for both outdoor and indoor furniture. If you are in a dry climate (under 15 inches of rain per year) or are considering an indoor or covered patio application, Douglas-fir is our recommended wood grade since the limited moisture will insure it will last much longer than the 10 year guarantee. Give it a shot, you'll be pleasantly surprised by its natural beauty while saving a chunk of change.

SPECIAL ENGRAVING

Engraving is the most popular option for placing a message on your furniture.

If you'd like to add an Engraving message, please type in the message as you'd like it included on your set in the Comment/Special Requests Box on the checkout page.

If you prefer a Plaque, we recommend you have it made at a local engraver or trophy shop so you can be intimately involved with the layout and materials choices and be sure you get exactly what you are envisioning. Plaques usually have a 3" height limitation for our furniture. Usually there is no width limitation. If you'd like, as a courtesy, we can inlay your plaque on your furniture at no extra cost. This involves cutting out approximately 3/8" of wood where the plaque will sit so it looks best long-term.

If you are adding a plaque and want us to do the inlay work, please mention this in the Comments/Special Requests box at checkout.

Depending on the thickness, some plaque designs do not need to be inlaid and you can just order them locally and add them anytime. Your engraver/trophy shop can explain further. If you cannot find a local engraver or trophy shop, we have used a local Northern California engraver for many years:

Notes for Orders requiring drawings or approvals:

All Shade Structure orders (Pergolas, Pavilions, Gazebos and Arbors) require drawings to make sure all details are agreed upon prior to building and to give our customers the ability to customize their structures to meet their needs. We also sometimes make custom changes to Swings, Planters, Benches, Tables and other standard production items per customer requests. If your order has a custom detail or is a shade structure, you will receive your first drawings via email within 5 business days of receiving your order.

Your assigned designer will go back and forth with you as needed to fine tune the design to your liking prior to building it. Once you sign off on your drawings, your timeline for shipping will begin. If you need a Rush Order and also drawings, it is best you call in your order so that we can organize ourselves to both complete your drawings on an expedited basis and meet your shipping deadline.

We ship internationally. To see shipping costs, just add item to your cart and for orders outside the U.S. enter your country in the shipping information section at checkout and the cost will be calculated. For international shipments, the shipping companies handle customs paperwork and they contact you to arrange delivery once order clears customs.

Assembly Service Available Nationwide: We can send our own trained crews to assemble your order. Just choose White Glove Service in the Shopping Cart or at Checkout. For more information on Complete Nationwide Assembly, please go to: <https://www.foreverredwood.com/white-glove/>

If you have specific questions about shipping or drawings, please feel free to contact us.
